

Annual Report

Fiscal Year 2014
Sheila Sharp, Director

ACC

From the Director

The Arkansas Department of Community Correction (ACC) respectfully submits its FY 2014 Annual Report.

ACC proudly contributes to the protection of the public and its employees and offenders by working to ensure that offenders in our custody – whether they are under community supervision or confined – do not endanger the safety and security of others.

Offenders under our supervision participate in rehabilitative programming that includes education, mental health, substance abuse treatment, life skills, and job readiness.

Offenders are held accountable for their actions and are required to repair the harm they have caused through community service work and by paying victim restitution, fines, economic sanctions and any family support they owe.

For those offenders returning from state prison, ACC's reentry programs and services can make their reentry to society more successful and lessen the chances they will commit another crime.

The agency's progress made during the past fiscal year is well documented through the accomplishments detailed in this report. But our work is not done, so ACC will continue its efforts to make Arkansas a safer place by refining our offender programs, services and management with the goal of dramatically reducing recidivism.

On behalf of the professional and forward-thinking employees of ACC, thank you for your support.

Respectfully submitted,

Arkansas Community Correction is often the final component adult offenders encounter in the state's criminal justice system, and it is a crucial one because it serves as their gateway to becoming law-abiding citizens.

ACC supervises probationers and parolees by providing programs that allow offenders to remain in or reenter their community as productive citizens. When offenders accept the help offered, both the offenders and the community benefits. It can be a powerful new beginning. If offenders do not engage in supervision, they can enter a vicious cycle of repeatedly moving in and out of the criminal justice system.

The flow chart below details the steps of the state's criminal justice system.

Administration

Programs & Services

Basic Supervision (Probation & Parole)

Community-based supervision that allows offenders to live at home under strict conditions. All parolees have been granted a conditional release from prison prior to end of their sentence and are placed under ACC supervision. Probationers have been allowed by a judge to remain in the community under ACC supervision. All offenders are placed on minimum, medium or maximum levels of supervision in accordance with a validated risk assessment. Throughout their supervision, their risk level can and often do change.

Community Correction Centers

Community-based residential settings offering structure, supervision, drug and alcohol treatment, educational and vocational programs, employment counseling, socialization and life skills programs, community work transition and other treatment programs.

Day Reporting Centers

Day Reporting Centers are comprehensive, non-residential programs designed to promote public safety; provide offender accountability and control through intense supervision; facilitate offender rehabilitation through behavior modification, substance abuse counseling and education; and develop employment skills. Offenders may participate as a condition of supervision or as a sanction for non-compliance with the terms and conditions of supervision.

Specialty Courts

Specialty courts include Drug Courts, Veterans Courts, HOPE and Swift Courts, and Mental Health Courts. They handle probation cases through intense and tailored supervision, monitoring, and treatment. Offenders receive outpatient and/or inpatient treatment and counseling, and are subject to sanctions, frequent drug testing and court appearances. Successful completion of the program results in dismissal of the charges, reduced or set-aside sentences, lesser penalties, or a combination of these.

Institutional Release Services

The element of the Arkansas Community Correction that is responsible for identifying when an inmate is eligible for parole consideration, scheduling the inmate for a parole hearing when eligible, and releasing those inmates approved by the Arkansas Parole Board.

Substance Abuse Program Leaders

ACC employs 26 Substance Abuse Program Leaders to provide substance abuse and co-occurring disorder services statewide. Services include outpatient substance abuse and mental health related counseling, life and social skills, employment readiness, health education, and referral services.

Programs & Services

Technical Parole Violator Program

The Technical Parole Violator Program is an alternative sanction for offenders who commit technical parole violations that provides confinement without returning them to traditional prison. Offenders sent to the TVP stay for 90 or 120 days during which they receive treatment and are given work assignments. The parolees also work with counselors to identify factors contributing to their parole violations and to develop strategies for achieving and maintaining compliance.

Sex Offender Aftercare Program

This program uses a team approach to sex offender management in the community. The team includes 42 supervision officers, four aftercare coordinators, five polygraph examiners, two voice stress analysts and an Assistant Area Manager. All positions were trained as specialized parole/probation officers in managing sex offenders. The staff are located in six regions of the state and worked closely with the Department of Correction staff to supervise high risk sex offenders in the community. The program's goal is to increase public safety and provide offender accountability.

Volunteer Program

Volunteers provide services to parolees, probationers and offenders housed in ACC Community Correction Centers. Volunteers are not paid but provide vital services to or on behalf of ACC. Their contributions greatly expand and enhance the agency's services and opportunities for offenders.

Specialty Courts

ACC supports specialty courts in Arkansas. At the end of the fiscal year, there were courts for drug/alcohol abuse, mental health, veterans, Smarter Sentencing, and SWIFT/HOPE courts,

DRUG COURTS - ACC staffed 42 adult Drug Courts across the state that maintained a monthly average caseload of 2,229 during the fiscal year. ACC expended $316,513 statewide for services and associated costs, not including staffing, to male and female drug court offenders. There are 26 contracts for these services used by the courts to address addiction behavioral issues through a team of professionals who collaborate and facilitate activities of individuals through swift application of appropriate incentives, sanctions and services.

VETERANS COURTS – There are two Veterans Courts in Arkansas. ACC partners with the Veterans Administration where participants attend treatment and counseling. Offenders plead guilty and are placed on probation. They are required to attend court, meet with a supervision officer and a counselor, and attend group sessions 12 times a month.

SWIFT/HOPE Courts - These courts are located in five areas of the state. They provide swift and sure sanctions to offenders who violate the rules. Supervision is highly structured with frequent office, home and community visits. Offenders are required to remain employed and abstain from drugs and alcohol.

MENTAL HEALTH COURTS - There are Mental Health Courts in Jonesboro and W. Memphis that are operated in conjunction with Mid-South Health Systems. These treatment-oriented courts primarily target misdemeanor probationers who have a psychosis disorder. The courts model Drug Courts and are presided over by a Circuit Judge.

SMARTER SENTENCING PROGRAM - The 13th Judicial District Prosecuting Attorney's Office, which covers Calhoun, Cleveland, Columbia, Dallas, Ouachita and Union Counties, and other stakeholders including education, health providers and law enforcement partnered to establish the evidence-based Smarter Sentencing Program. Established January 1, 2011, this pre-trial/non-adjudicated program requires court appearances and hearings. It employs swift sanctions that are sure and certain. At graduation, most participants have their plea withdrawn or expunged.

Technical Violators

The Omega Technical Violator Program (TVP), which opened in March 2005, is a 300-bed all male facility for offenders who violated a condition of their parole without committing a new crime. Eligible offenders may sign a waiver to the program in lieu of being locked up in jail or returning to the Arkansas Department of Correction. Initial confinement is for a 90-day period. Offenders who return to Omega for a second admission into the program are held for 120 days.

The intent of the program is to teach, promote and encourage positive cognitive and behavioral change that will result in a crime-free lifestyle. The program's goal is to create a safe environment where residents will be provided the opportunity to examine their lifestyles, identify problem areas and practice new behaviors. The Omega TVP targets alcohol and drug addiction and the addictive criminal lifestyle. Emphasis is placed on acknowledging past problems, accepting responsibility for negative actions and practicing new behaviors that will lead to long-term change.

The staff at Omega interact as a team, with each member being involved in the security and treatment processes. This consistency allows the offender to have a more structured base for recovery.

Residential Treatment

The Program:

For more than 20 years, Arkansas Community Correction has consistently improved community correction services through the operation and management of residential centers and treatment services for offenders in Modified Therapeutic Community centers. ACC operates five community-based centers for offenders and the Omega Technical Violator Center that provide significant structure, supervision, drug and alcohol treatment, educational and vocational programs, employment counseling, socialization, life skills, community work transition, and other services. Each facility is accredited by the American Correctional Association and the five residential centers are licensed as substance abuse treatment facilities by the Arkansas Department of Human Services Division of Behavioral Health Services' Office of Alcohol and Drug Abuse Prevention (ADAP).

The Modified Therapeutic Community program has three phases that are progress-driven. The normal length of stay is nine months to one year. As soon as the resident enters the program, an extensive assessment is completed and the resident is placed in the Phase System. The goal is to create a positive peer culture and facilitate overall lifestyle changes. These lifestyle changes are demonstrated by residents remaining drug-free and having the ability to interact in society without further criminal activity, while taking responsibility for ongoing recovery and contributing to their communities.

Treatment staff providing services are fully credentialed as Certified Clinical Supervisors, Licensed Alcohol and Drug Abuse Counselors, Advanced Alcohol Drug Abuse Counselors, Certified Alcohol Drug Abuse Counselors, Certified Anger Management Specialists Certified Co-Occurring Disorder Professionals, Certified Prevention Specialists, Certified Compulsive Gambling Counselors, and Certified Tobacco Treatment Specialists.

Residential Treatment

Special Needs Program (SNP):

The SNP is a 60-bed male and two 50-bed female units for co-occurring disorders. These offenders have histories of substance abuse and mental health and/or medical issues. The programs operate within Modified Therapeutic Communities at the Southwest Arkansas Community Correction Center in Texarkana (males) and the Southeast Arkansas Community Correction Center in Pine Bluff (females). The program is designed for long term treatment, with an average completion of six to 12 months.

Short Term Program:

Drug Court judges can place a Drug Court offender in an ACC Community Correction Center for a 30- to 90-day intensive residential treatment program provided by skilled, experienced and certified treatment specialists. Offenders participate in 25-28 hours of treatment each week. Staff work closely with offenders to make sure each one has a workable plan that addresses individual needs, which strengthens the recovery process.
